4. What financial services can your Adviser provide?

Will you receive personal financial advice?

Yes, your Adviser is qualified and authorised to provide you with personal financial advice that is tailored to your needs, objectives and financial situation. Your adviser is also able to provide you with general advice and factual information, and transact on your behalf.

What information should you provide to receive personal financial advice?

In order to provide you with appropriate advice, your Adviser will ask you to provide information about:

- your personal circumstances;
- details of your current financial situation; and
- other relevant matters.

You have the right not to disclose all information but your Adviser may not be able to provide advice that is appropriate to your needs, objectives and financial situation without it.

You should read the warnings contained in any documentation carefully before making any decision relating to a financial product.

What is the extent of the advice that your Adviser can offer you?

Your Adviser can provide personal financial advice, and deal (transact on your behalf), relating to the following types of financial product:

Product Types
Managed investment schemes - (eg managed funds, unit trusts, Separately Managed Accounts and Investment Directed Portfolio Services)
Investment and funeral bonds
Deposit Products - (eg term deposits, savings accounts)
Government debentures, stocks and bonds
Personal and Business Risk Insurance (eg income protection, total and permanent disability, trauma, life cover, business overheads insurance, and group life insurance)
Superannuation - (eg rollovers, account based pensions and annuities)
Retirement Savings Accounts

How advice must be provided

Personal financial advice will be provided to you in writing (in an SOA) only after your Adviser has reviewed the information you provide to us and has carefully considered your financial goals.

What other information will I need from you?

If you decide to implement my advice, the law requires me to obtain additional information from you and to confirm the accuracy of that information. In particular, I will need to verify your full name, date of birth and residential address. In order to do so I will need to sight various identification documents such as a current Australian Driver's Licence or Australian Passport, and keep records of the identified documents. To minimise your inconvenience I will generally try to verify this information at the same time as I collect information about your financial needs and objectives. However, if you would prefer the verification not to occur until you decide to implement the advice please let me know. Please appreciate that the verified information will be made available to your product provider(s) and that they are unable to process your application without this verification.

The scope of financial products used to meet your needs

We maintain an Approved Product List containing financial products issued by Commonwealth Bank Group members and by third parties. A research team compiles and regularly reviews this list. Where appropriate, your Adviser will recommend a financial product from the Approved Product List. Any other product your Adviser recommends must meet our selection and approval process.

Limits on the advice that can be provided

When making recommendations to you, tax, social security and estate planning issues can be discussed but we are not authorised to give advice relating to these issues. If you want detailed advice you should consult a specialist in that area.

It is important to note that your Adviser cannot provide advice on the following:

- General Insurance
- Direct Share Investments
- Derivatives
- Foreign Exchange

Referral Service(s)

Shares

Your Adviser is not able to offer advice on direct share investments or existing portfolios, but can refer you to the Adviser Trading Centre at Commonwealth Securities Limited (CommSec). Your Adviser can charge you a commission and management fee as a result of this referral. Please refer to section 5.

You do not have to consult any professional we refer you to. You may want to consult a professional you have an existing relationship with, or choose another. The professional you choose to consult is responsible for the advice they provide to you. We may earn a fee, commission or other benefit from the professional we refer you to in relation to the referral itself or on the basis of the business they transact for you. Where the other professional is an AFS Licensee or representative of an AFS Licensee, the other professional will provide you with a separate Financial Services Guide relating to those services, and details of any fee, commission or other benefit arising from the referral, or any business transacted as a result of the referral. Financial Wisdom is not responsible for any advice provided to you by any other professional we refer you to.

Other services available from Financial Wisdom

Financial Wisdom is able to offer advice on a range of financial products that may be broader than your Adviser can offer you. A summary of all the services available from Financial Wisdom is provided in section 8.

Can you make a transaction without receiving personal financial advice?

Yes, we can take your instructions to transact on your behalf and place a financial product (that Financial Wisdom is able to offer) without providing personal financial advice.

How do you provide instructions to your Adviser?

Generally we need you to instruct your Adviser in person, as your signature will be required for verification. However, for some products and services it is possible for special arrangements to be put in place where instructions can be given to your Adviser by fax, phone or e-mail.

What personal information is maintained in your file and is it kept secure?

The law requires us to keep a record of your personal profile. This has to include details of your personal needs, objectives and financial situation and a record of any advice given to you.

Financial Wisdom is committed to ensuring the privacy and security of your personal information. As part of our continuing commitment to client service and maintenance of client confidentiality we have adopted the principles set out in the Privacy Act. For further details please refer to the Commonwealth Bank Group's Privacy Policy at www.commbank.com.au. If you wish to examine your file please ask your Adviser.

Will your portfolio be reviewed?

We recommend that you review your financial situation every 12 months or whenever your personal or financial circumstances change. It is your responsibility to initiate the review process. If you would like a review, or you have any concerns, please contact your Adviser.

You will, of course, receive regular information from the product providers about the value and performance of your investments, as well as details of any insurance policy cover.

What happens if we provide you with further advice?

When we provide you with personal advice, you will initially receive a Statement of Advice (SOA). Where you maintain the advice relationship with us, a SOA is generally not provided for further advice situations provided your circumstances and the basis of the advice are not significantly different. However we are required to keep a record of advice.

You may request a copy of the record of advice we keep. Any request must be made within 7 years of the provision of such advice, and should be directed to your Adviser.

5. What fees and commissions are paid to Financial Wisdom?

What are the costs involved in obtaining advice and to whom are they paid?

A range of fees and commissions may be paid for the advice you receive and the financial products used. These fees and commissions are paid to Financial Wisdom as the Licensee and are not paid directly to your Adviser. How your Adviser is paid is set out in section 6, "What does Financial Wisdom pay your Adviser?" and will be fully detailed in your SOA.

The types of payments are outlined below. Before providing any financial advice your Adviser will discuss these options with you and help you select the payment method that suits you best.

In all cases, details of payment required for the services provided will be given to you at the time of any personal financial advice or when executing a transaction on your behalf. All fees detailed below are inclusive of GST (where applicable).

A. Fee for Service Provided

Under this method of payment, there are set fees for each service provided to you.

- You may be charged a fee of $500.00 including GST for your initial consultation with your Adviser which will include the cost for the preparation of the SOA.
- If you proceed and implement the advice as held within the SOA, this initial fee may be rebated from the Commission received from the insurance underwriter.

You will be provided with a tax invoice for the service provided and you will need to provide a cheque or money order payable to Financial Wisdom in accordance with the invoice.

B. Commissions & Adviser Service Fee

i) Commissions

Under this method of payment, Financial Wisdom receives a commission directly from the product provider. This commission is based on a percentage of the funds you invest or the premiums you pay. Commissions are not paid directly by you, but are deducted from the investment or premium by the product provider.

These commissions fall into two general categories:

- Initial Commission - This is a one off commission paid at the start of an investment or insurance policy. The initial commission on an investment product, including superannuation, can be up to 5.5% (GST inclusive) of the investment amount. The initial commission on an insurance product can be up to 125% (GST inclusive) of the first year's premium.
- Ongoing Commission - This is paid every year in which the investment or insurance policy is maintained, as part of the product provider's ongoing charges. The ongoing commission on investment products, including superannuation, can be up to 1.1%pa (GST inclusive) of the investment amount. The ongoing commission on insurance products can be up to 38.5%pa (GST inclusive) of the renewal premium.

ii) Adviser Service Fee

The Adviser Service Fee is a fee agreed between you and your Adviser for their ongoing advice and service. It is paid to Financial Wisdom, and Financial Wisdom may pay part or all of the fee to your Adviser.

Some products offer the option to deduct the Adviser Service Fee from your funds on a periodic basis.

If this fee is to apply to you, it will be fully detailed in your SOA.

C. Other benefits that may be received

Financial Wisdom assesses and rewards its Advisers based on the quality of advice provided to clients, the continuing professional development of Advisers, and the management, size and growth of an Adviser's practice. Together these measures form a Practice Quality score ("PQ") which is compiled by Financial Wisdom.

Financial Wisdom Advisers may be entitled to receive the benefits outlined below. These other benefits are not an additional cost to you.

Short Term Incentive:

Financial Wisdom may receive payments from certain product providers on the Financial Wisdom Approved Product List. These payments are based on the level of investments by Financial Wisdom clients in those products. The payments form part of a pool maintained by Financial Wisdom. From this pool, the Financial Wisdom Adviser may qualify for a Short Term Incentive (STI) payment provided he/she obtains a minimum PQ and achieves minimum levels of advice quality, business revenue, and for productivity and business retention. Any benefit the Adviser receives under the STI is not an additional cost to you.

In addition:

- Financial Wisdom Advisers may be invited to participate, sometimes with their partners, in domestic and international educational conferences and seminars arranged by Financial Wisdom. It is not possible to estimate a dollar value of these benefits at this time. Their attendance may be paid for in full or subsidised by Financial Wisdom, or it may be at their own cost.
- Financial Wisdom Advisers may receive minor unquantifiable benefits including business lunches, tickets to sporting and cultural events, corporate promotional merchandise, and other minor benefits from Financial Wisdom or product providers whose products Financial Wisdom recommends. Given that such benefits are discretionary and relate to future events, it is not possible to provide an estimated dollar value. The details of any benefit received will be recorded in our register of alternative forms of remuneration, which is available for inspection by contacting Financial Wisdom.
- Financial Wisdom Advisers have access to a Business Valuation Package offered by Financial Wisdom, which is subject to certain conditions. The amount Financial Wisdom would pay for the Adviser's business depends on a range of factors including compliance history and financial performance.

Partners in Wisdom Program

Financial Wisdom, as the licensee, may receive payments from a number of product providers to help fund professional development programs, study tours and conferences, and various other functions attended by Advisers. These payments are not linked to volume of sales. Financial Wisdom currently offers platinum, gold, silver and purple packages where the product provider can contribute amounts of $90,000, $60,000, $25,000 and $7,500 respectively towards partnering with Financial Wisdom in providing Adviser training and conferences. A list of current Partners in Wisdom is available on the Financial Wisdom website.

Are fees paid for referrals?

If you have been referred to us by someone else, or if we refer you to someone else, Financial Wisdom or the Adviser may pay them a fee or commission, or may receive a referral fee. The SOA will disclose these referral payments and the amounts paid.

6. What does Financial Wisdom pay your Adviser?

Once Financial Wisdom receives payment for a service, it will pay your Adviser a percentage of the commission, fee and bonus amount received by Financial Wisdom and retain the balance.

The exact amounts payable to Financial Wisdom and your Adviser will be disclosed in your SOA. If the amount is not calculable at the time the SOA is given, the way the amount is calculated will be disclosed in the SOA.

Financial Wisdom and your Adviser maintain a public register of alternative forms of remuneration of $300 or equivalent value received from product providers or fund managers whose products or platforms Financial Wisdom Advisers recommend. We also maintain a Conflicts of Interest register. Conflicts of interests are circumstances where some or all of your interests are inconsistent with, or diverge from, some or all of the interests of Financial Wisdom or your Adviser.
